Jack trained as a composer before moving into TV & Film as a writer and director. As a music video/commercials filmmaker he has directed films for clients including Google, Atlantic Records, Sony and The Royal Opera House.

His debut horror script INFLUENCE (2015) was featured in the Blacklist's Industry Highlights during 2015 and he spent time in the writers' room for THE MAN IN THE HIGH CASTLE S2 (Big Light Productions/Amazon Studios) as a Shadow Writer.

Jack recently completed short film SIGNIFICANCE, a sci-fi thriller starring Adrian Schiller, which played at festivals around the country, securing a handful of award nominations and was picked up for international broadcast. His latest film "THE SUPERMAN" (2016), a short documentary, has been acquired by National Geographic, given a Vimeo Staff Pick and was picked for the Academy-qualifying Bermuda film festival in 2017.

He is currently in development with his debut feature "I Am Not Afraid", a Hitchcockian thriller about a contemporary dancer.
